

Master Teacher Award 2014

Elsevier, the world's leading health careers publisher, is pleased to partner with the Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (ABHES), to present the tenth Master Teacher Award.

The Master Teacher Award recognizes the work of an outstanding allied health faculty member who shows exceptional skill, innovation, and effectiveness in regards to promoting student learning, professionalism and self-confidence.

Examples of suitable areas of innovations include, but are not limited to:

- ❖ Unique teaching methods to engage learners
- ❖ Successful practices for teaching special populations
- ❖ Innovative integration of clinical experiences
- ❖ Unique use of multimedia, technology, e-learning tools, or simulations
- ❖ Innovative educational strategies for instilling soft skills, such as professionalism, in students

One winning entry will be selected by representatives from Elsevier and ABHES.

The recipient of the Master Teacher Award 2014 will attend the National Conference on Allied Health Education at The Gaylord Opryland Resort & Convention Center in Nashville, Tennessee, on February 26-28, 2014, as a guest* of Elsevier and ABHES. The winner will present his or her winning practice to attendees during the Awards Ceremony being held on Friday, February 28, 2014. In addition, the recipient will receive a $500 cash prize.

Eligibility Criteria

Full- or part-time teachers in health careers programs at ABHES-accredited schools are eligible for the Master Teacher Award. Teachers may be nominated by the School Director, Director of Education, or Program Director. By submitting a best practice idea, the school, administrator, and teacher agree to allow Elsevier and ABHES to publish the entries to share the practice with other health careers educators.

The winner agrees to attend the 2014 National Conference and present the winning practice to conference attendees as specified above.

Submission Guidelines

Entries should not exceed four pages of explanation and two pages of supplemental data (photos, charts, screen shots, PowerPoint slides, etc.). Submissions should include the attached entry form plus descriptions of the following:

- ❖ Purpose of the practice
- ❖ Beneficiaries of the practice
- ❖ Results from implementation of the practice

**Limit of two entries per school*

Entries must be received by November 1, 2013. Submit entries electronically to: Tricia Schroeder at t.schroeder@elsevier.com.

The 2014 Master Teacher Award winner will be notified by December 15, 2013. Other applicants will be contacted by December 30, 2013.
