The Accrediting Bureau of Health Education Schools (ABHES) has learned that Four-D College has published statements on its website regarding the bases for a recent action by ABHES to deny the school's application for a renewed grant of accreditation and also announcing that the school has closed. ABHES does not agree with the statements describing the bases for ABHES actions. Furthermore, Four-D has exercised its right to appeal the decision and therefore remains accredited by ABHES at the present time pending the resolution of the appeal.

Students affected by Four-D's announcement should contact the Closed School Unit of the California Department of Consumer Affairs Bureau for Private Postsecondary Education at (916) 431-6932. For more information see www.bppe.ca.gov.
